Alaska, Spring 1987

H Adams Carter contributes the following note:

The weather was very bad in Alaska, but some climbs were made. Willy Hersman, Todd Miner, Karen Cafmeyer, Larry Hartig, Jim Sayler and Blaine Smith climbed Mount Blackburn (4995m) from the Nabesna Glacier to the N ridge, reaching the summit on 12 May. They also made the first ascent of P3220 on 14 May. John Bauman's party climbed Mount Wrangell.

In the Kichatna Mountains, Conrad Anker's group made the first ascent of the SE face of Gurney Peak, and Jack Tackle and Jim Donini climbed the S buttress of P2100. In the Alaska Range, near Mount McKinley, Scott Gill's party made a new route, the NW ridge, on West Tripyramid, and Thomas Bauman's and Mugs Stumps's groups both made new routes on the difficult peak, The Broken Tooth.
