Pictures of the Tirol were not very numerous, but full justice was done to this picturesque district by Miss Beatrice Taylor in a pretty little picture, 'The Zahnkofel'; and equally attractive were Mr. Pryor's 'Croda da Lago,' Mr. Morrish's 'The Rosetta' and 'A Cloudy Morning on Monte Cristallo,' and Mr. J. E. Dawson's very pretty 'Distant View of Vent, Oetzthal.' The latter gentleman also showed an interesting figure study in 'The Service at Hohe Stiege Saas Fee.' Other excellent exhibits fo this kind were 'Salting the Sheep at Arolla,' a charming little picture by Miss Venables; 'Cattle on the Resti Alp,' by Mr. Fuller England; 'Peasants at Kippel,' by Mr. J. W. Brown; 'Milking time near Riederfurka,' by Miss Margaret King; 'A Market Woman in the Mastallone Valley,' by the Rev. A. E. Murray—all of which depicted various incidents of life in the High Alps in a delightfully characteristic manner.

There were a few pictures of skating rinks, which are, we venture to think, somewhat unsuitable for Alpine Club exhibitions.

Mr. J. Kenyon Parker, and Mr. E. G. Oliver each contributed several interesting views in the Zermatt district, especially as regards such climbs as the Zmutt Arête and the Nordend from Macugnaga, both of which were accomplished by several parties last year.

Excellent work was also shown by Miss Tiarks, Mr. Witherby, Mr. Benson Lawford, Rev. F. C. Bainbridge Bell, Mr. A. E. Hassé, and Mr. Douglas Murray.

European mountain districts outside the Alps received very scant attention, being solely represented by a pretty little picture 'Delvino, South Albania,' sent by Mr. MacRury, and 'Doe Crag-Coniston,' taken by Mr. A. Craig. Norway, the Pyrenees, Wales and Scotland were absolutely unrepresented—a most unsatisfactory state of things.

There was quite an imposing array of autochromes by Miss Nicholls, Dr. Roger-Smith, Mr. Spencer, and Miss Hardcastle. Those taken by the last-named lady, and the three sunset effects by Dr. Roger-Smith were beyond question the best of the collection.

ALPINE ACCIDENTS IN 1912.

On August 1 Herr Möllmann of Hamburg, aged twenty-seven, made the traverse of Piz Bernina with the guide Franz Fux of St. Niklaus and his cousin Severin Fux. Owing to snow and fog during the last three hours the party only reached the summit at 7 P.M. They attempted the descent through the Labyrinth, but were compelled by a heavy snow-storm to bivouac at a height of about 2500 metres. They continued their journey next morning at six, but Herr Möllmann was too exhausted to proceed far and unfortunately died of exposure at eleven.
